GRAPHIC
DESIGN

GRAPHIC DESIGN

Magazine Layout in InDesign

Did you know?

Punctuation is for clarifying a written sentence.

During the middle ages punctuation was almost nonexistent.

Sentences were typed in square or rustic capitals.

Breaking sentences apart was indicated by varying sizes between words.

Lesson Objectives

- Introduce using a grid
- Demonstrate using master pages
- Demonstrate how to create magazine

Lesson 7 Challenge Feedback

- Create advertisement in Photoshop

Using a Grid

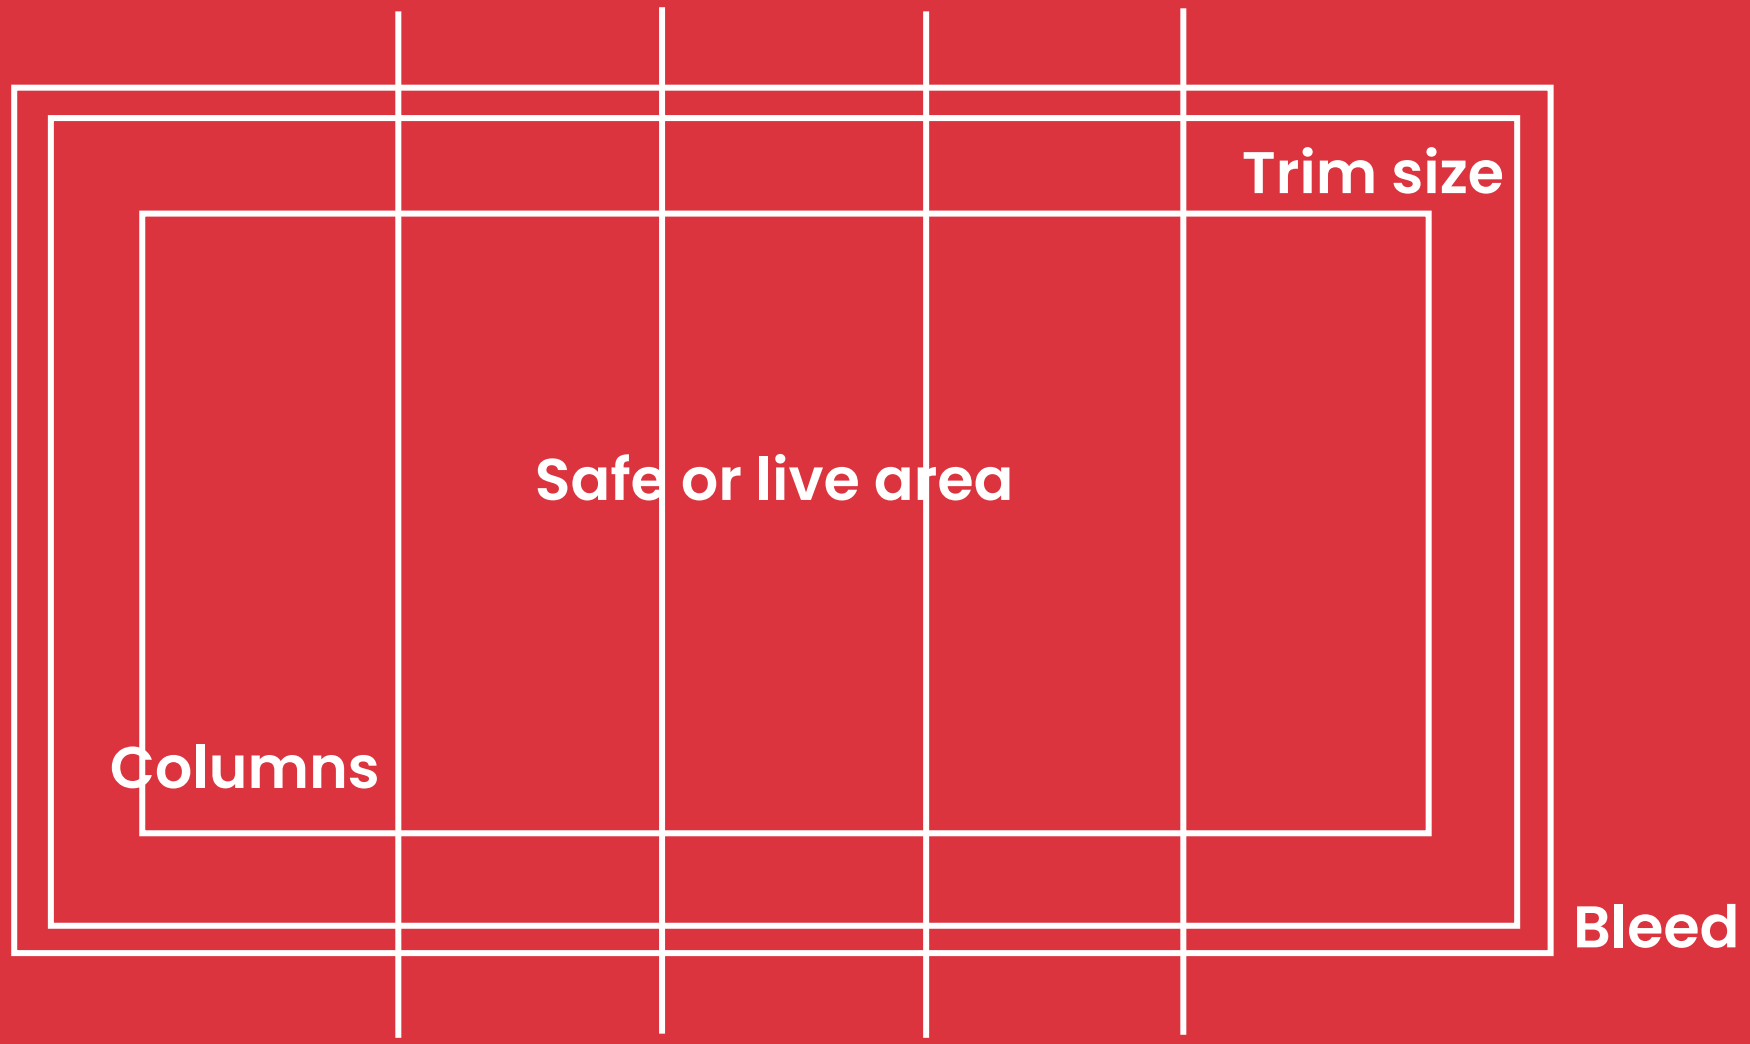
Using a Grid

- Design cycle:
  Briefing, research & brainstorming, thumbnails, production and present

- A grid is used to organise elements and make your design process easier and quicker

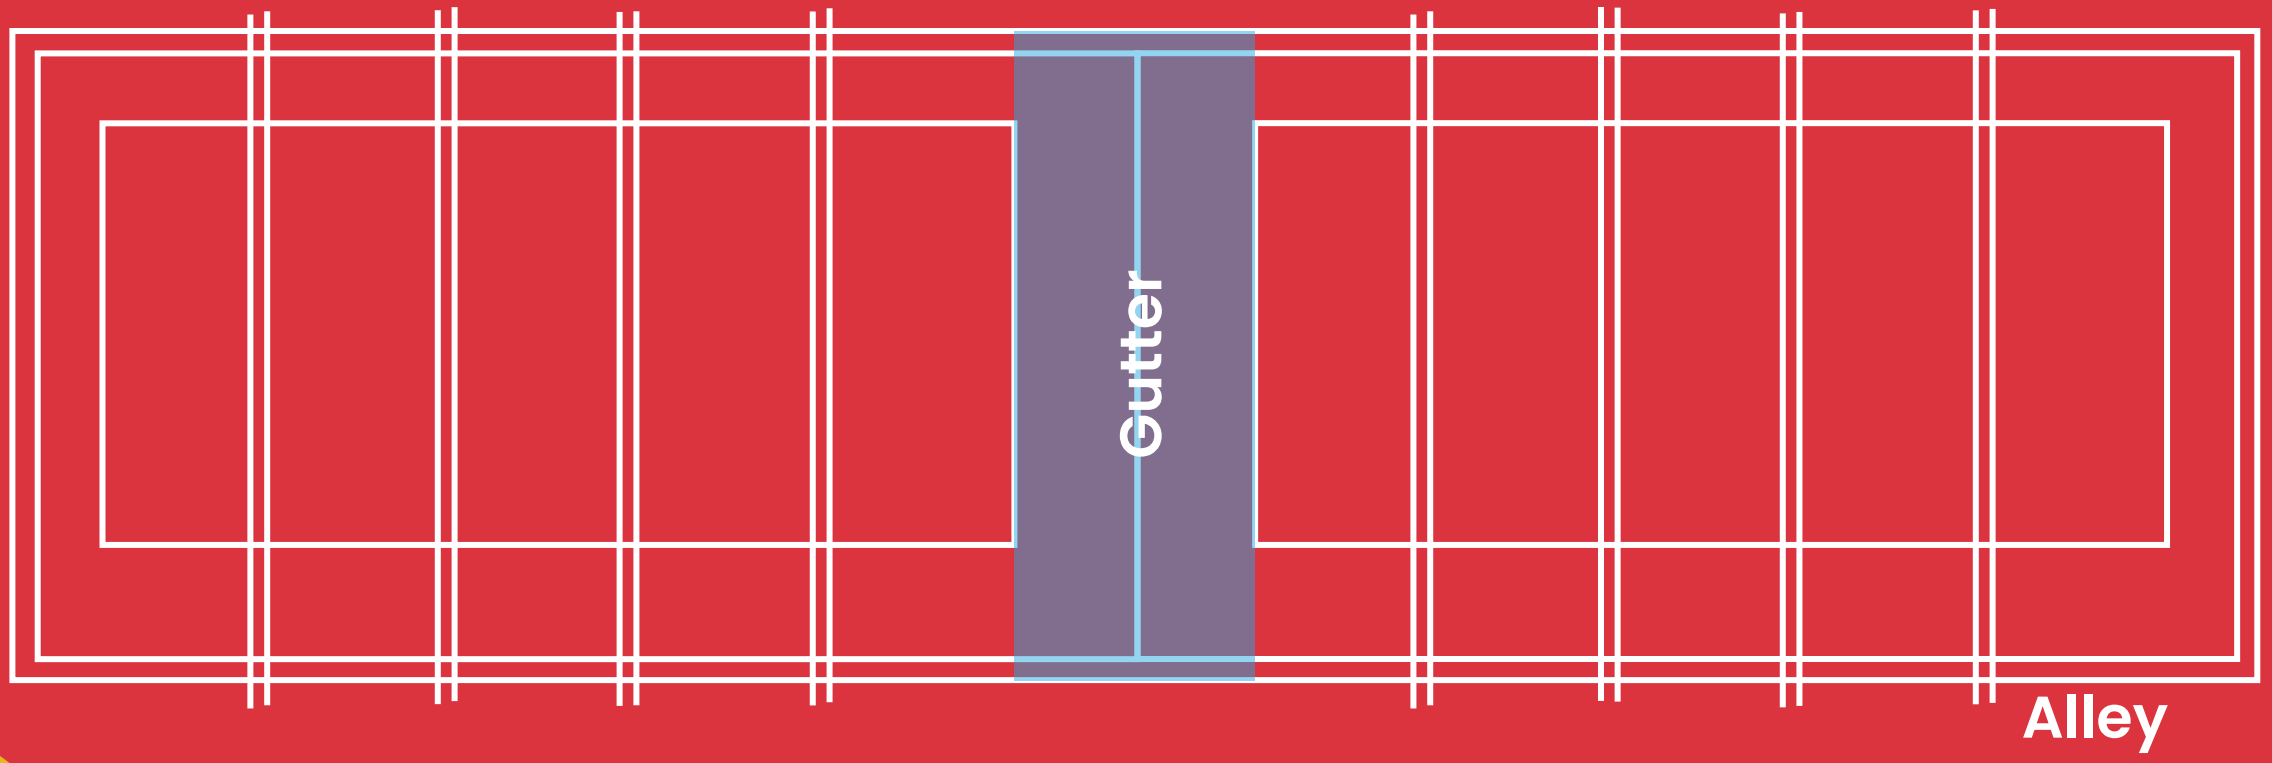
- Grids aid in making your designs interesting but also practical and functional

Start with a Grid

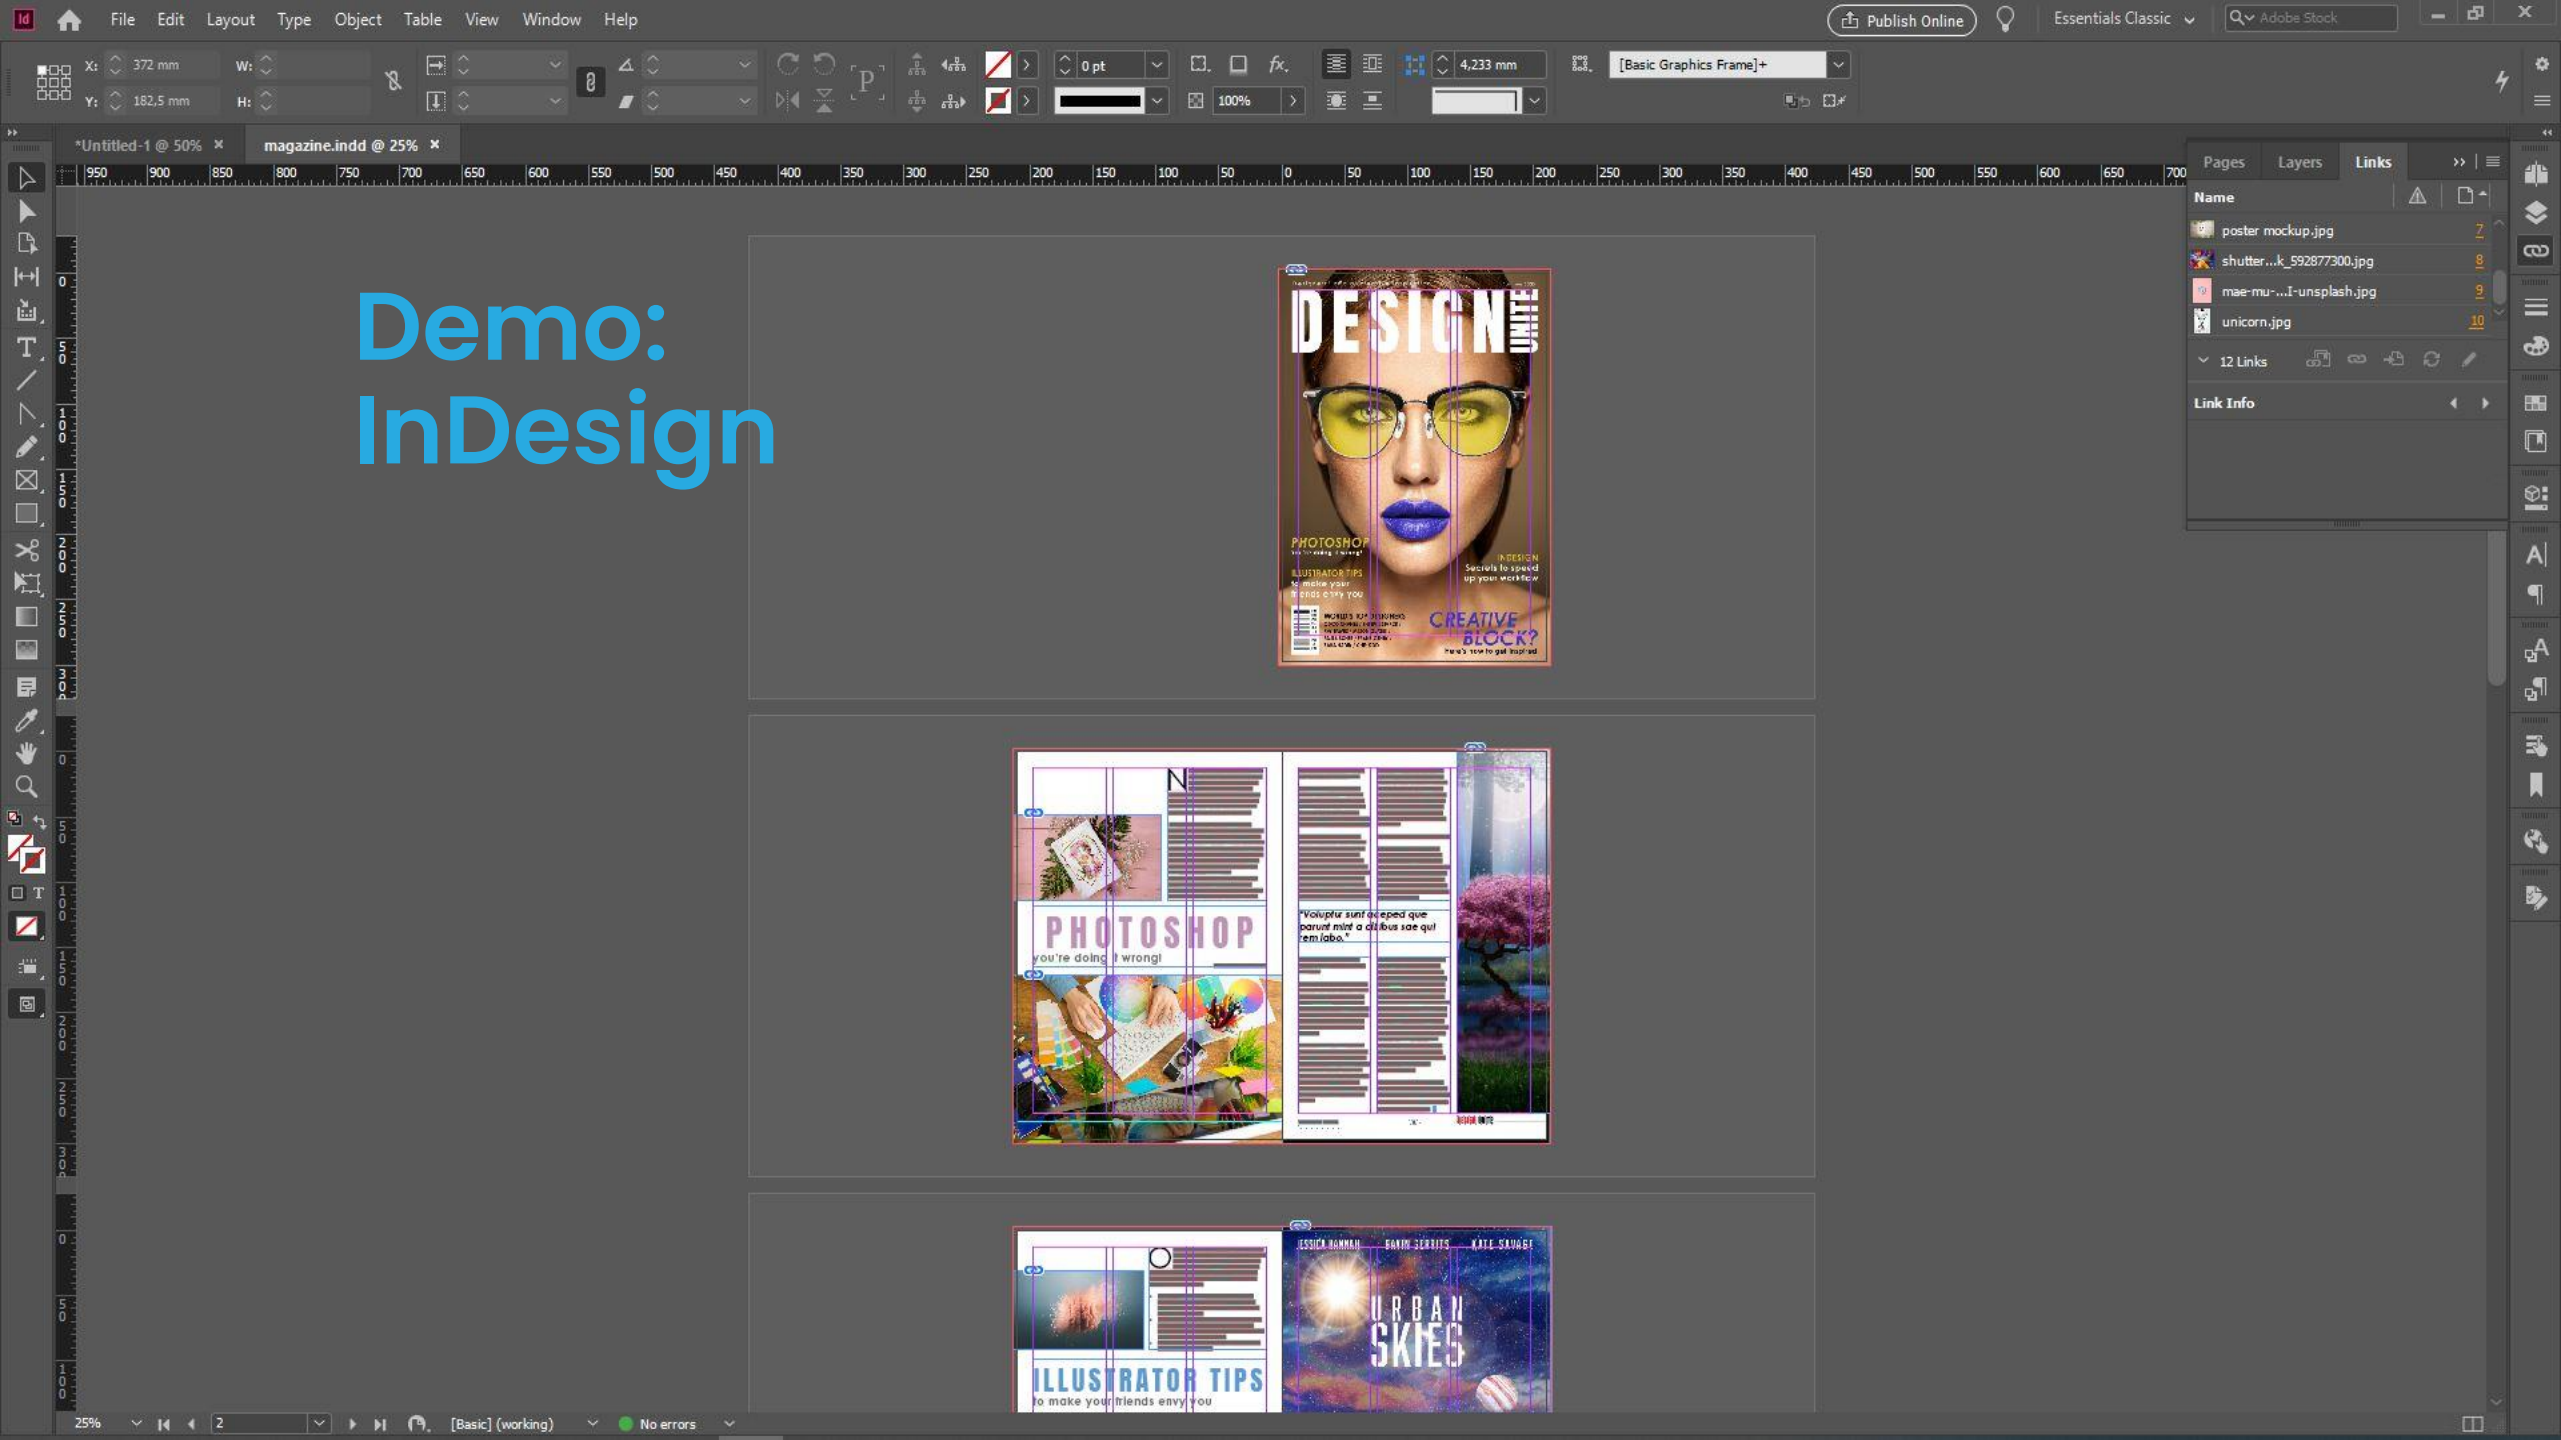


Start with a Grid

Two facing pages = spreads



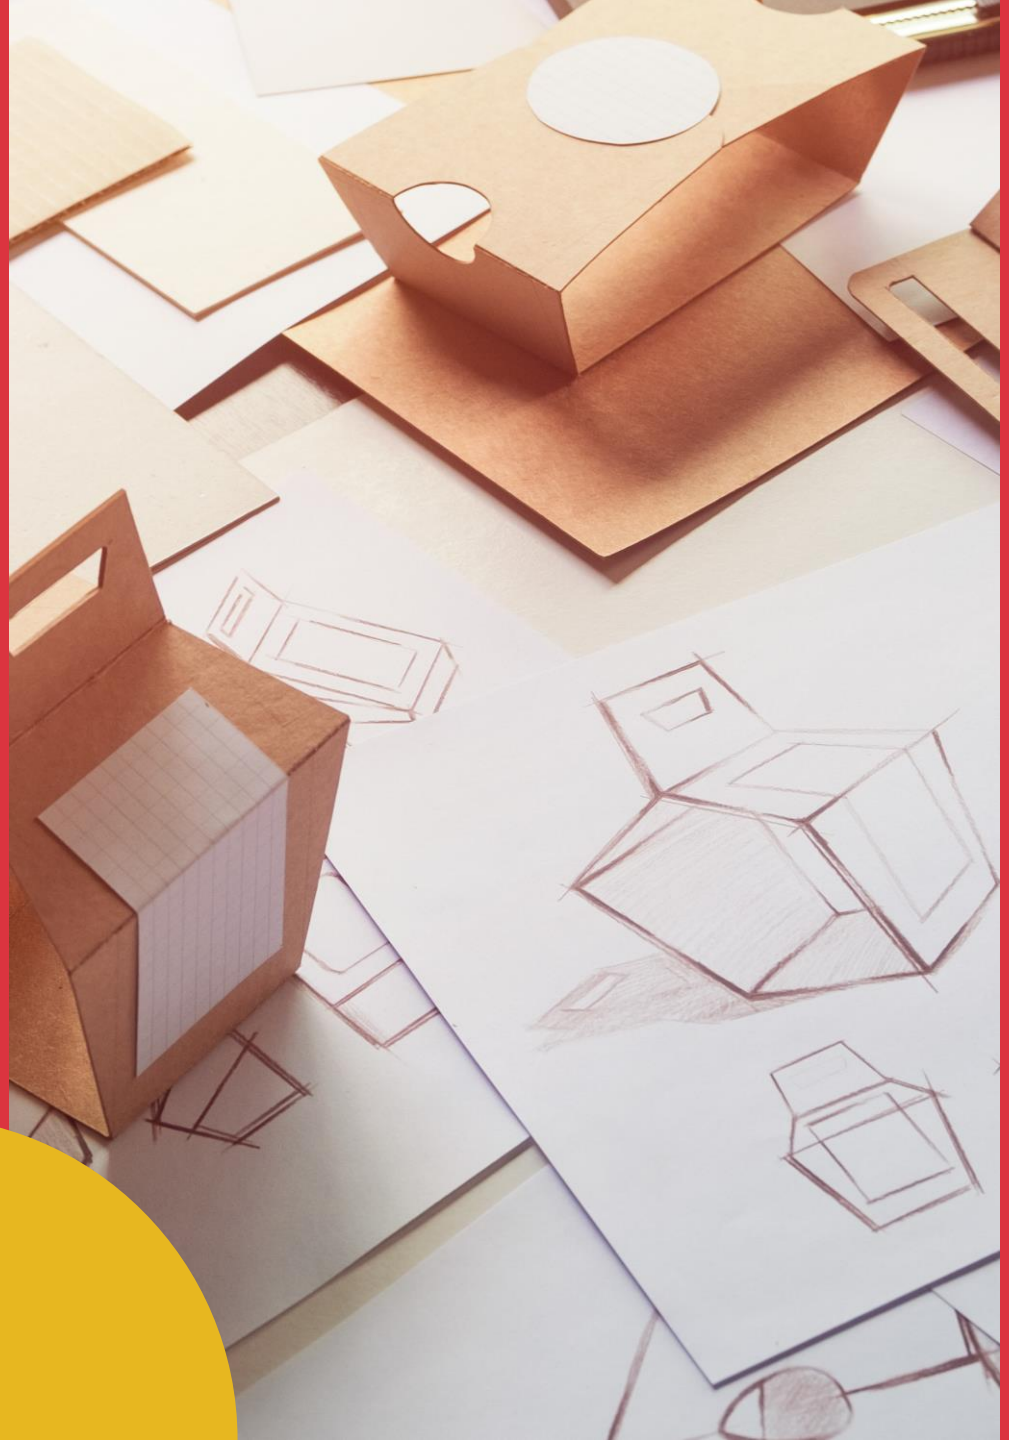
Demo: InDesign



Mock up by www.freepik.com

Challenge

- Create magazine layout in InDesign



Coming Up in Module 3

- Creative thinking
- Interactive PDF design
- Packaging design
- Advanced photo editing

CONGRATULATIONS

FOR COMPLETING YOUR LESSON!