

DIPLOMA IN PHOTOSHOP

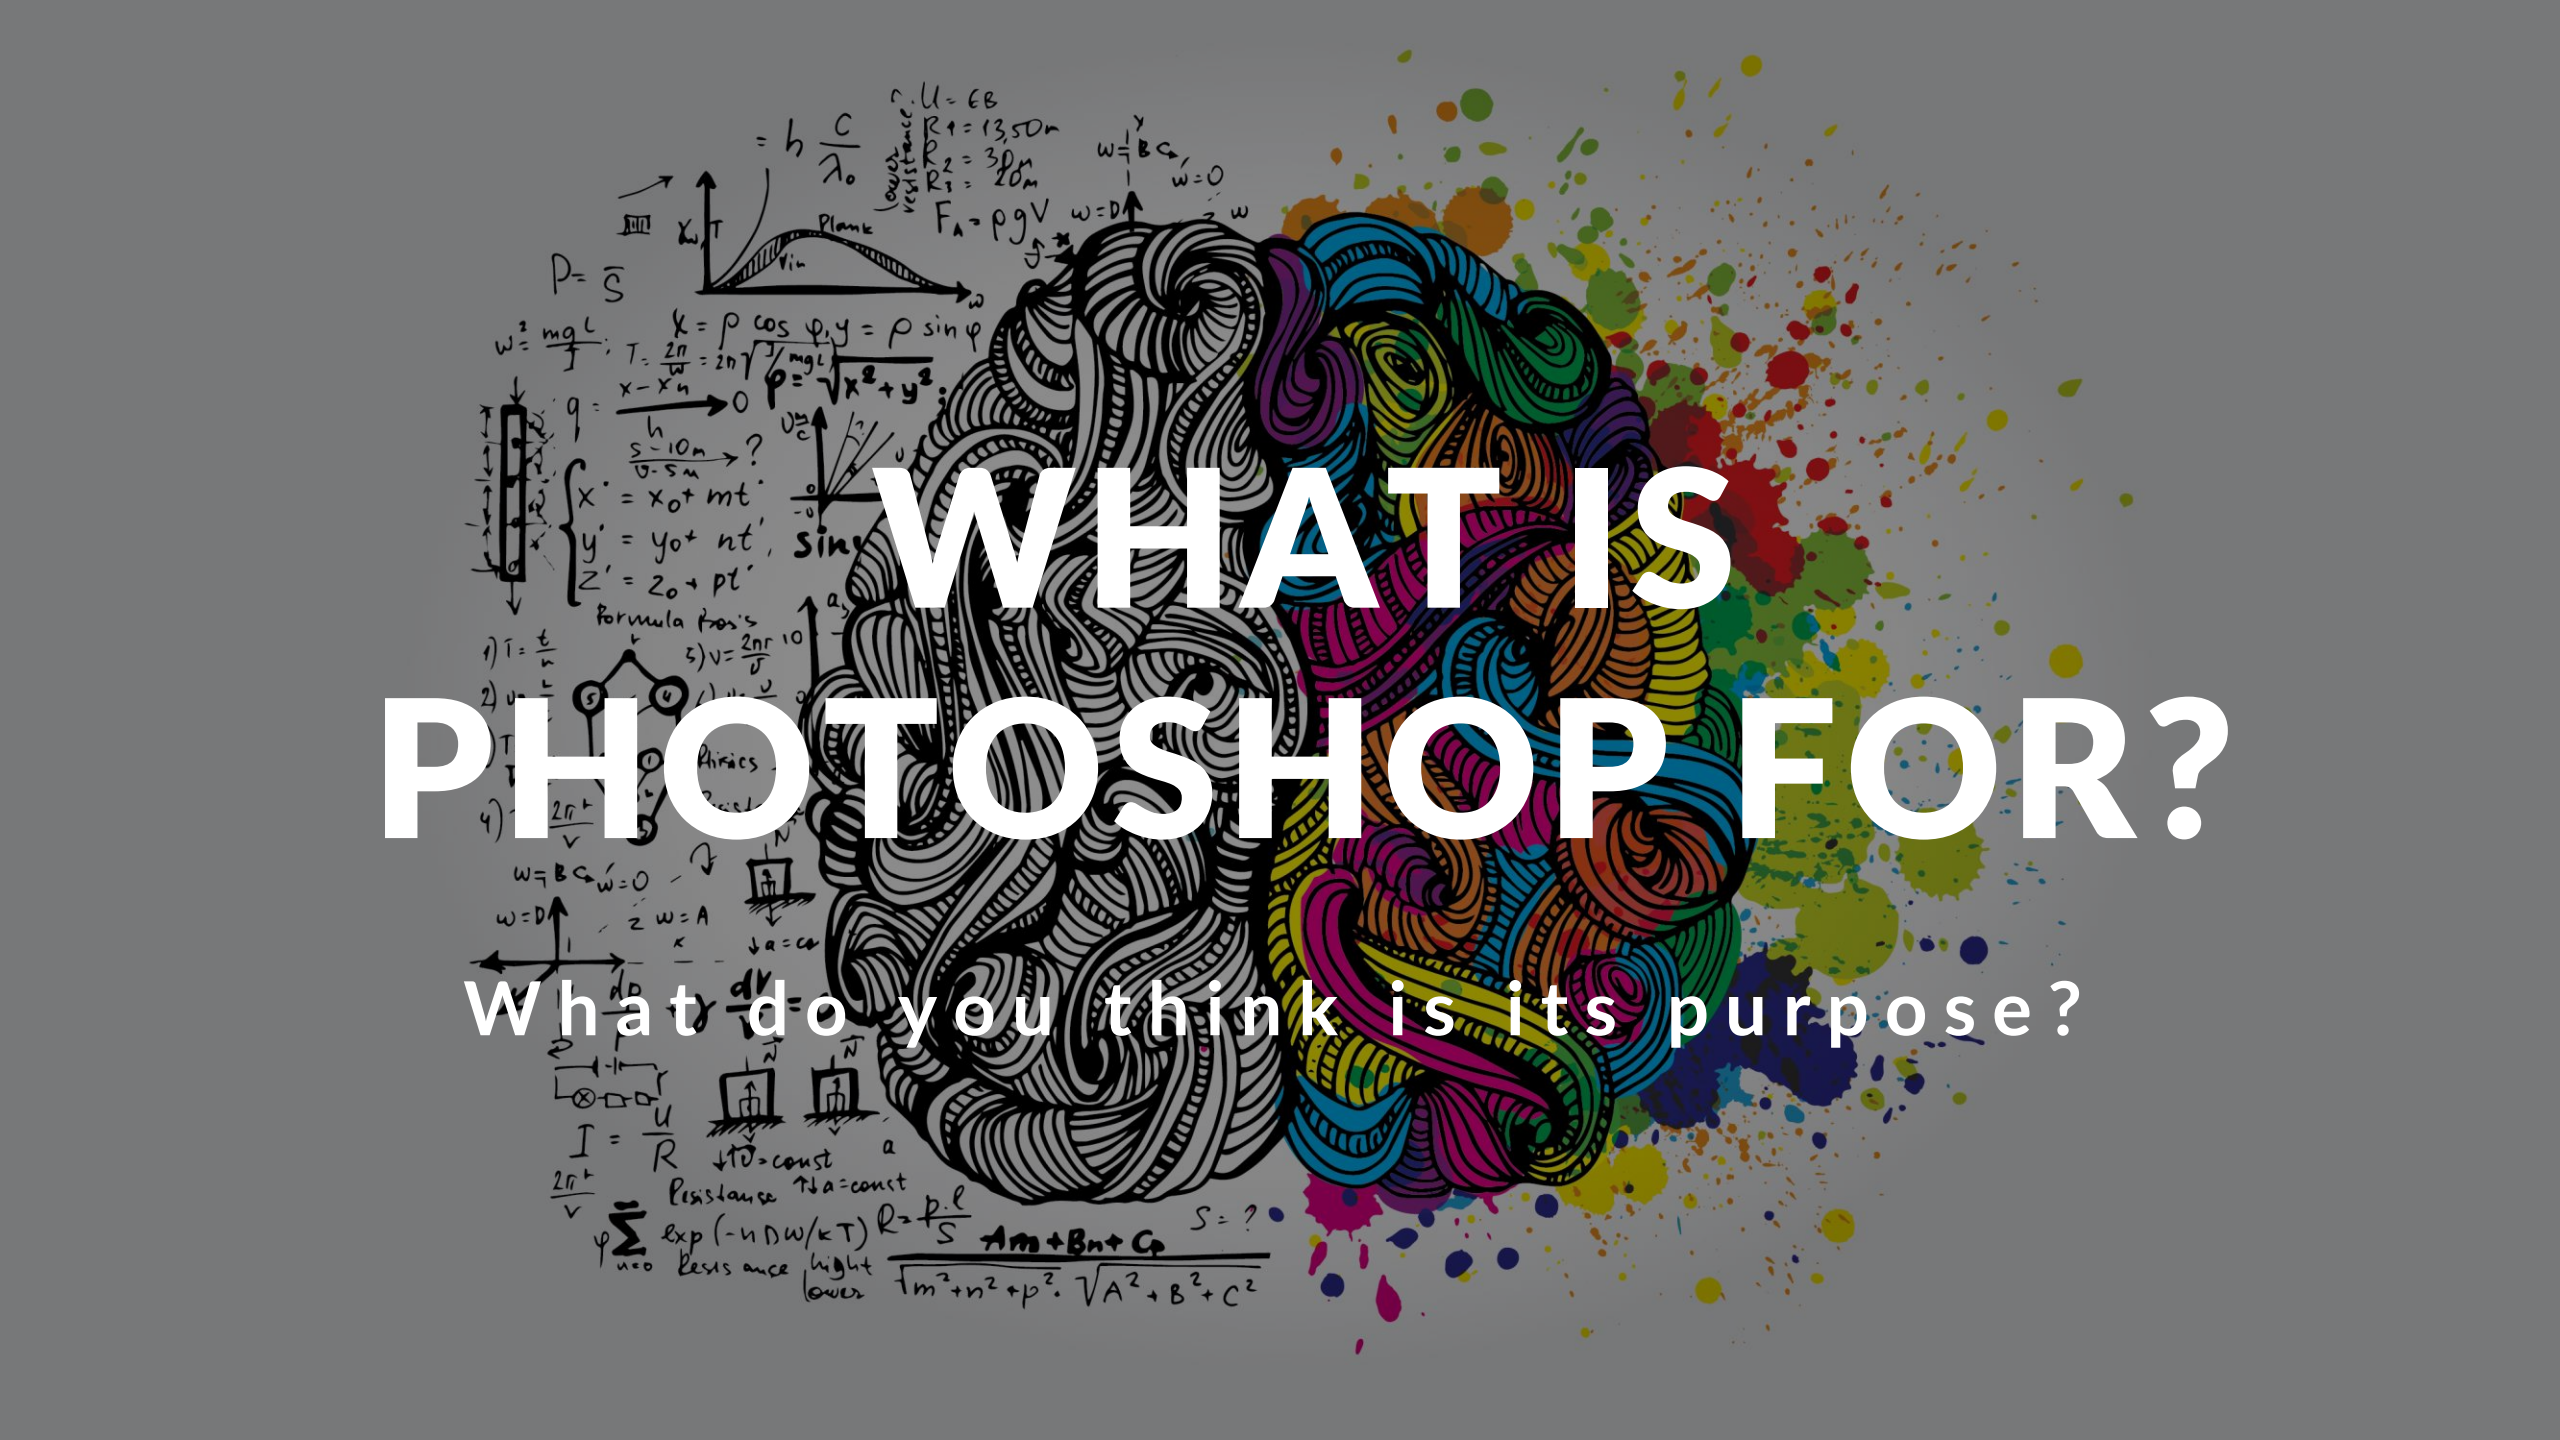

LESSON 1

DID

YOU KNOW?

Photoshop was developed in 1987 by the American brothers Thomas (shown here) and John Knoll, who sold the distribution license to Adobe Systems Incorporated in 1988. Photoshop was originally conceived as a subset of the popular design software Adobe Illustrator.

WHAT IS PHOTOSHOP FOR?

What do you think is its purpose?

Getting set up With Photoshop

Get work ready!

A woman with long, wavy brown hair is smiling and looking at a large sheet of paper she is holding. The paper displays a grid of many small, identical photographs of a man in a light blue shirt. She is in a creative workspace with a computer monitor in the background showing a grid of images. On the desk, there are colorful sticky notes and a color calibration chart. The text "WHAT VERSION OF PHOTOSHOP?" is overlaid in large, white, bold, sans-serif capital letters.

A person with blonde hair is holding a white tablet. The background is a blurred office setting with a laptop and a wall covered in photos. Overlaid on the image is a network of white icons connected by lines. The icons include: a group of people, a share symbol, an envelope, a laptop, a smartphone, a camera, a microphone, a gear, a Wi-Fi symbol, a globe, a signal tower, a circular arrow, a hierarchical chart, and two speech bubbles. The word "MARKETERS" is written in large, white, bold, sans-serif capital letters across the center of the image.

A woman with long brown hair and glasses, wearing a light blue denim shirt, is leaning over a white desk in a modern office. She is using a white marker to draw on a large architectural blueprint spread out on the desk. On the desk, there is also a computer monitor, a keyboard, a mouse, and a pair of headphones. In the background, there is a window with a plant on the sill and a brick wall. The word "ARCHITECTS" is overlaid in large white capital letters across the center of the image.

A woman with long blonde hair, seen from behind, stands on a highly reflective surface. She is wearing a long, flowing white dress and holding a black metal birdcage in her left hand. The birdcage has a small perch inside. The surface she stands on is perfectly still, creating a clear reflection of her dress and the birdcage. In the background, there are low, hazy mountains under a pale, overcast sky. Several birds are visible in the sky, including a single bird in flight near the center and a larger group of birds in the upper left. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.
