Meaning of monetisation

Monetisation is the conversion of a social media channel or content contained within it for the purposes of generating revenue.

Sales Funnel

An example of how someone might move through the sales funnel:

Start by liking your Facebook Page -> See your Facebook content -> click the link on your content -> click into a product page -> add product to cart -> buy

Remember that:

Fans DON'T always mean customers
Followers DON'T always mean leads
Brand advocates DON'T always mean customers

Prospects ARE leads
Customers ARE those who have converted or purchased Subscriber IS a potential lead

Social media and monetisation

Facebook monetisation

- We want to keep people in our channels
- Send traffic from our Facebook to our eCommerce platform (blog section would be beneficial)
- Build a platform for Facebook and sell directly
- Focus on what's available to use
- How your page is displayed (brand photo and cover photo)
- Website
- Call-to-actions
- Tabs
- Content

How to monetise Facebook

- Create a business page
  - Proper classification
  - Select right name
  - Complete about section
  - Get verified
  - Profile picture and cover photo
- Build an audience
- Funnel the audience
  - Monetised page
  - FB shop or brand page
- Engage, maintain and grow

Twitter monetisation

- Content for Twitter
- Curate valuable content
- Call-to-action and link to website
- Good cover pic and bio

How to monetise Twitter

- Build a following
- Become known in an industry
- Hashtag every Tweet (2 p/tweet)
- Be persistent
- Interact with your audience
- Be helpful and genuine
- Learn from your audience

YouTube monetisation

- Redirect to website
- How-to-videos
- Partner programme (you need to get 10 000 public channel views)
- Clickable video
- YouTube cards
- Monetisation is also just subscribe
- Link in the description where they can buy through affiliate strategy or your website

Pinterest monetisation

- Important for eCommerce
- Show product immediately
- Design for conversions

Instagram monetisation

- Start building a solid followership
- Always provide a link (link in bio)
- Share quality images and videos
- Use the video function
- Get your fans involved
- Organise contests or events

Hosted VS Self-hosted

Hosted: hosted eCommerce solutions enable you to build an online store that works right away - even if you're not technical at all.

Self-hosted: self-hosted ecommerce solutions are flexible and can be highly customised - but you will need to be quite technical or hire a developer

How to choose between hosted and self-hosted

- Do I have the technical capability to carry out this work?
- Am I willing or able to be my company's tech support?
- Will I be hiring a techie?
- Will my store need tools to be custom made?

If you answer NO - choose hosted

- Simple and user-friendly
- Features build with each other in mind
- Works from day one
- Hosting, security and technical aspects managed
- Pre-installed and ready-to-use shopping cart tools
- No coding knowledge necessary
- 24/7 support

If you answer YES - choose self-hosted

- More advanced and flexible
- More expensive generally speaking
- Tech expert or hire a developer
- Standalone programs
- You configure your store
- Limitless customisation
